Statement: Bail denied in Nathaniel Julies case

The Caitlin Douman Foundation finds favour in the outcome of the hearing in the matter of the 3 accused police officers in the murder case of Nathaniel Julies. Following the outcome of the hearing at the Protea Magistrate court today, we are delighted that the justice system seems to be functional and does not find favour in the hurt and pain caused by the accused in the untimely death of the young man.

With bail being denied of the accused, this is another win for the family of Nathaniel, people living with disabilities and the greater community of Eldorado Park and surrounding areas.

Furthermore, we call for harsher sentencing in this matter, life sentences would be a starting point to prove that the law of South Africa is superior and that the rights of people living with disabilities are being taken seriously. We call on the disabled community and the greater community of Eldorado Park to jointly call for the speedy resolution of this case.

Regards,
